This is an Age of Progress; new ideas and new appliances follow each other in rapid succession. Inventive genius is taxed to the uttermost in devising new inventions, not alone for articles of utility of necessity, but to meet the ever-increasing demands for novelties which administer to creature-comfort and afford gratification to fastidious tastes.

A new beverage is the pride of the Bar-Tender, and its appreciation and adoption his crowning glory.

In this entirely New Edition will be found all the latest efforts of the most prominent and successful caterers to the tastes of those who patronise the leading Bars and Wine-Rooms of America, as well as the old and standard favourite beverages, always in general demand.

HINTS AND RULES

FOR BARTENDERS.

1. An efficient bartender's first aim should be to please his customers, paying particular attention to meet the individual wishes of those whose tastes and desires he has already watched and ascertained; and, with those whose peculiarities he has had no opportunity of learning, he should politely inquire how they wish their beverages served, and use his best judgment in endeavoring to fulfil their desires to their entire satisfaction. In this way he will not fail to acquire popularity and success.

2. Ice must be washed clean before being used, and then never touched with the hand, but placed in the glass either with an ice-scoop or tongs.

3. Fancy drinks are usually ornamented with such fruits as are in season. When a beverage requires to be strained into a glass, the fruit is added after straining; but when this is not the case, the fruit is introduced into the glass at once. Fruit, of course, must not be handled, but picked up with a silver spoon or fork.

4. In preparing any kind of a hot drink, the glass should always be first rinsed rapidly with hot water;

Havelock Tobaccos. Retail Price, 6d., 1/- & 1/6 per plug.

if this is not done the drink cannot be served sufficiently hot to suit a fastidious customer. Besides, the heating of the glass will prevent it from breaking when the boiling water is suddenly introduced.

5. In preparing cold drinks great discrimination should be observed in the use of ice. As a general rule, shaved ice should be used when spirits form the principal ingredient of the drink, and no water is employed. When eggs, milk, wine, vermouth, seltzer or other mineral waters are used in preparing a drink, it is better to use small lumps of ice, and these should always be removed from the glass before serving to the customer.

6. Sugar does not readily dissolve in spirits; therefore, when making any kind of hot drink, put sufficient boiling water in the glass to dissolve the sugar, before you add the spirits.

7. When making cold mixed-drinks it is usually better to dissolve the sugar with a little cold water, before adding the spirits. This is not, however, necessary when a quantity of shaved ice is used. In making Cocktails the use of syrup has almost entirely superseded white sugar.

8. When drinks are made with eggs, or milk, or both, and hot wine or spirits is to be mixed with them, the latter must always be poured upon the former gradually, and the mixture stirred briskly during the process; otherwise the eggs and milk will curdle. This is more particularly the case when large quantities of such mixtures are to be prepared. Such drinks as "English Rum Flip," "Hot Egg Nogg" and "Mulled Wine," are sure to be spoiled unless these precautions are observed.

9. In preparing Milk Punch or Egg Nogg in quantity, the milk or eggs should be poured upon the wine or spirits, very gradually, and continually beating the mixture in order tc mix the ingredients thoroughly.

10. When preparing cold Punch, the bowl should be placed in a tin or metal vessel about the same depth as the height of the bowl, the space between the bowl and the vessel being packed with ice, and a little rock-salt sprinkled over the surface, which has the effect of producing a freezing mixture, much colder than the plain ice. Towels may be pinned around the exterior of the vessel, and the exposed surface of the ice trimmed with fruit or leaves, giving the whole an attractive appearance.

11. In case brandy, whiskey, or other liquors are to be drawn for use direct from the wood, the cask should be placed upon a skid, a substantial stand made expressly for the purpose, and kept in a place where the temperature is moderate and uniform.

12. Bottles containing liquor should be kept lying down, in order to keep the corks moist, and prevent the strength being lost by evaporation.

13. Casks containg Ale or Porter should be tapped before placing them on the skid, and then allowed sufficient time for the contents to settle and become clear before using.

14. Champagne requires careful treatment. It is not advisable to place more at a time on ice than is likely to be used, because if removed from the ice and again allowed to get warmer, a second icing injures both flavor and strength.

15. When champagne has been well iced, it requires a good deal of care in handling the bottles; cold renders the glass brittle, and less able to withstand the expansive pressure of the contents.

16. Bottles containing champagne, or any other brisk wines, must be kept laying down; if in an upright position for any length of time, the corks become dry, and the gas is liable to escape.

17. During the process of cooling sparkling wines, the bottles should not be placed in direct contact with the ice, because that portion of the bottle which touches the ice cools more rapidly than the remainder, causing unequal contraction and consequent tendency to crack.

18. When sparkling wines are served in the bottle they should be put in an ice-pail, and the space between the bottles and pail filled with ice broken small. When the bottle is entirely surrounded by ice, the liability of cracking from unequal contraction does not exist.

19. When Champagne is in occasional use, being served by the glass or for mixing beverages, it is a good plan to place the bottle on a rack, the neck sloping downwards, and insert through the cork a corkscrew syphon provided with a cut off or faucet, by the use of which a small portion may be drawn off at a time without allowing any escape of the gas.

20. Mineral waters contained in syphons should be cooled gradually, and not allowed to stand in contact with the ice. Although the syphons are constructed of very thick glass, this very thickness, while affording complete resistance to the expansion of the gas contained, is the more liable to crack from unequal contraction, when only one portion of the syphon is touching the ice.

21. Cordials, Bitters, and Syrups should be cooled gradually, and not laid upon ice. A moderate degree of coolness is sufficient for these preparations, as they are only used in small portions for mixing and flavoring.

Havelock Tobaccos. Retail Price, 6d., 1/- & 1/6 per plug.

22. Claret, Rhine-Wines, Sherry, Port, etc., require special attention. Their temperature should not be too cold; and, when poured into glasses, the bottle should be steadily handled, so that any sediment that may be in the bottom of the bottle is not disturbed. Bottles containing these wines, when laid away, should be placed on their sides, to keep the corks moist.

23. Whiskey is usually kept directly on ice, but brandy and other liquors require only a moderate temperature. Fine old Cognac loses its "velvet" when chilled.

24. The refreshing qualities and flavor of Lager beeer depend very largely on the manner of keeping and handling. Casks or kegs containing it should be kept at a temperature of about 40°. Lager is always in its best condition when it comes from the brewer's ice-house. When carted through the streets on a hot summer's day, the temperature is quickly increased. and it must then be stored in a refrigerator for three or four days in order to reduce it to a proper temperature before using.

25. When the consumption of a keg of beer is sufficiently rapid, it is best drawn directly from the keg, the first glass drawn being rejected. The tap must be thoroughly cleansed before using; and, as soon as the beer ceases to run freely, a vent is placed in the bung.

When, however, the keg has to stand in use for some time before it becomes empty, a considerable amount of gas will escape every time the vent is opened, and the beer will soon become "flat, stale and unprofitable" at least for the consumer. To obviate this, and to keep the beer tolerably fresh to the end, the vent is not used, but a tube is inserted in the vent-hole, leading to a receiver or cylinder containing air, compressed either by water-power or a hand force-pump.

Havelock Tobaccos. Dark and Aromatic.

This exerts a continual pressure on the surface of the beer, and prevents the gas from rising. Too great an amount of air-pressure should be avoided, because the beer will be driven too forcibly through the tap, and fill the glass with more froth and less beer than a thirsty drinker would care to pay for.

The air in the cylinder should be drawn from a pure source, by means of a tube, if necessary, leading to the open air. The air in a cellar or even a close apartment is rarely pure, and would have a decidedly unwholesome effect on the beer.

26. Bottled Beer should be kept in a cool place or in a refrigerator not in contact with the ice. The bottles ought to stand upright, so that any sediment will settle to the bottom. It is, therefore, not advisable to pour the last dregs of the bottle into the glass.

27. Syrups are peculiarly attractive to ants, flies, and other insects; they should therefore, be kept in closely corked vessels; and, when in bottles for use, be kept in a cool place, properly corked, a rubber cork being most convenient, and the bottles standing upright in water. In this manner the bottles will be out of the reach of insects of every kind.

Havelock Tobaccos. Finest Quality.

Port Wine Negus.

(General rule for preparing a quantity.)

To every pint of Port wine allow:
1 quart of boiling water.
¼ of a pound of loaf-sugar.
1 lemon.
Grated nutmeg to taste.

Put the wine into a jug, rub some lumps of sugar (equal to one-quarter of a pound) on the lemon rind until all the yellow part of the skin is absorbed, then squeeze the juice and strain it. Add the sugar and lemon-juice to the Port wine, with the grated nutmeg; pour over it the boiling water, cover the jug, and when the beverage has cooled a little, it will be fit for use.

Negus may also be made of Sherry, or any other sweet wine, but it is more usually made of Port.

This is an English beverage, and derives its name from Colonel Negus, who is said to have invented it.

Havelock Tobaccos. Finest Quality.

Soda Negus.

(About one quart.)

Take 1 pint of Port wine.

(Use large bar-glass.)

Take 1 table-spoonful of powdered white sugar dissolved in a little water.
Juice of half a small lemon.
1½ wine-glass of Irish or Scotch whisky.

*Sugar does not readily dissolve in spirits; it is necessary, therefore, in making hot toddy or punch to put in the water before the spirits, or at least sufficient of the water to entirely dissolve the sugar, taking care to warm the glass before pouring boiling water into it.
The best Hot Whisky Punch is made with pulverized rock-candy. This is preferable to sugar, for any hot drink made of whisky or brandy.

†When this beverage is made for a number of persons to be used at table, it ought always to be made with boiling water, and allowed to concoct and cool for a day or two before it is put on the table. In this way, the materials get more intensely amalgamated than cold water and cold whisky ever get.

This can be made in any quantity by observing the proportions of the ingredients as given above. Four bottles of wine make a gallon, and a gallon is generally sufficient for fifteen persons in a mixed party.

Imperial Brandy Punch.

(For a party of twenty.)

Take 1 gallon of water.
3 quarts of brandy.
1 pint of Jamaica rum.
1½ pounds of white sugar.
Juice of 6 lemons.

Havelock Tobaccos. Dark and Aromatic.

Mix the materials well together in a large bowl, and you have a splendid punch.

If not sweet enough, add more sugar.

Hot Brandy and Rum Punch.

(For a party of fifteen.)

Take 1 quart of Jamaica rum.
1 quart of Cognac brandy.
1 pound of white loaf-sugar.
4 lemons.
3 quarts of boiling water.

It is very important, in making good punch, that all the ingredients are thoroughly incorporated; and to insure success, the process of mixing must be diligently attended to.

Allow a quart for four persons; but this information must be taken cum grano salis; for the capabilities of persons for this kind of beverage are generally supposed to vary considerably.

Havelock Tobaccos. Finest Quality.

Arrack Punch.

(Three tumblers of punch.)

Take 2 wine-glasses of Batavia arrack (old)
3 wine-glasses of Jamaica rum.

Sweeten to taste with loaf-sugar dissolved in hot water.

Lemons and limes are also matter of palate, but two lemons are enough for the above quantity; put then an equal quantity of water—i.e., not five but six glasses to allow for the lemon juice, and you have three very pretty tumblers of punch.

Nuremburg Punch.

Take ½ pound of loaf-sugar.
2 or 3 large oranges.
1 quart of boiling water.
½ quart of Batavia arrack.
1 bottle French red wine.

Pare off a portion of the orange peel very thin. Press the juice of the oranges through muslin into the sugar; add the previously pared peel. Pour on them the water (boiling) and the arrack; add the wine, hot but not boiling, and stir together.

White wine may be substituted for the red, but the latter is considered better for the purpose.

This is an excellent punch when cold, and will improve with age.

Havelock Tobaccos. Retail Price, 6d., 1/- & 1/6 per plug.

United Service Punch.

Take ½ pint of arrack.
1 pint of Jamaica rum.
½ pound of loaf-sugar.

Pineapple punch is sometimes made by adding sliced pineapple to brandy punch.

Havelock Tobaccos. Dark and Aromatic.

Royal Punch.

(For a small party.)

Take 1 pint of hot green tea.
½ pint of brandy.
½ pint of Jamaica rum.
1 wine-glass of Curaçoa.
1 wine-glass of arrack.
Juice of two limes.
A slice of lemon.
White sugar to taste.
1 gill of warm calf's-foot jelly.

To be drunk as hot as possible.

This is a composition worthy of a king, and the materials are admirably blended; the inebriating effects of the spirits being deadened by the tea, whilst the jelly softens the mixture, and destroys the acrimony of the acid and sugar.

The whites of a couple of eggs well beat up to a froth, may be substituted for the jelly where that is not at hand.

If the punch is too strong, add more green tea to taste.

Century Club Punch.

Take 1 pint of old Santa Cruz rum.
1 pint of old Jamaica rum.
5 pints of water.

With the addition of lemon juice and sugar to suit the taste, this makes a nice punch.

The precise portions of spirit and water, or even of the acidity and sweetness, can have no general rule, as scarcely two persons make punch alike.

Havelock Tobaccos. Finest Quality.

California Milk Punch.

(For Bottling.)

Take the juice of four lemons.
The rind of two lemons.
½ pound of white sugar, dissolved in just sufficient hot water.
1 pineapple, peeled, sliced and pounded.
6 cloves.
20 coriander seeds.
1 small stick of cinnamon.
1 pint of brandy.
1 pint of Jamaica rum.
1 gill of Batavia arrack.
1 cup of strong green tea.
1 quart of boiling water.
1 quart of hot milk.

Put all the materials in a clean demijohn, the boiling water to be added last; cork this down to prevent evaporation, and allow the ingredients to steep for at least six hours; then add the hot milk and the juice of two more lemons; mix, and filter through a jelly-bag; and when the punch has passed bright put it away in tight-corked bottles.

This punch is intended to be iced for drinking.

If intended for present use filtering is not necessary.

English Milk Punch.

(To make six bottles.)

Take 2 quarts of water.
1 quart of milk.
1 quart of old Jamaica rum.
2 quarts of French brandy.

Havelock Tobaccos. Retail Price, 6d., 1/- & 1/6 per plug.

Add the milk to the water. Mix the spirits, and pour them into the milk, stiring the mixture for a short time. Let it stand for an hour, then filter through blotting-paper into bottles. This would be sufficient for six bottles. If, after filtering, the punch is not clear, the addition of a small portion of isinglass to each bottle will clarify it.

Oxford Punch.

(The Punch patronized by the Students of the University of Oxford.)

Take 1 pint of Cognac brandy.
1 pint of old Jamaica rum.
1 quart of orange shrub.
½ pint of sherry.
1 bottle of Capillaire (see Index).
2 quarts of boiling water.
6 glasses of calf's-foot jelly.
6 lemons.
4 sweet oranges.
Sufficient loaf-sugar, dissolved in some of the hot water.

Rub the rinds of three lemons with sugar to extract the essential oil. Cut the peel very fine off two more lemons and two of the oranges. Press out the juice of all the oranges and lemons. Place the whole, with the jelly, in a jug and stir well. Pour on the water, and let it stand for twenty minutes. Strain through a fine sieve into a large bowl; add the capillaire, spirits, shrub, and wine, stirring well.

Havelock Tobaccos. Dark and Aromatic.

Punch a la Romaine.

Take 1 bottle of rum.
1 bottle of wine.
10 lemons.
2 sweet oranges.
2 pounds of powdered sugar.
10 eggs.

Dissolve the sugar in the juice of the lemons and oranges, adding the thin rind of one orange; strain through a sieve into a bowl, and add by degrees the white of the eggs beaten to a froth. Place the bowl on ice for a while, then stir in briskly the rum and the wine.

Duke of Norfolk Punch.

(For Bottling.)

Take 2 quarts of brandy.
1 quart of white wine.
1 quart of milk.
1¼ pound of sugar.
6 lemons.
3 oranges.

Pare off the peel of the oranges and lemons very thin; put the peel and all the juice into a vessel with a close-fitting lid. Pour on the brandy, wine and milk, and add the sugar after having dissolved it in sufficient water. Mix well, and cover close for twenty-four hours. Strain until clear, and bottle.

Havelock Tobaccos. Finest Quality.

Tea Punch.

(Use heated metal bowl.)

Take ½ pint of good brandy.
½ pint of rum.
¼ pound of loaf sugar, dissolved in water.
1 ounce of best green tea.
1 quart of boiling water.
1 large lemon.

Infuse the tea in the water. Warm a silver or other metal bowl until quite hot; place in it the brandy, rum, sugar, and the juice of the lemon. The oil of the lemon peel should be first obtained by rubbing with a few lumps of the sugar. Set the contents of the bowl on fire; and while flaming, pour in the tea gradually, stirring with a ladle. It will continue to burn for some time, and should be ladled into glasses while in that condition. A heated metal bowl will cause the punch to burn longer than if a china bowl is used.

Punch a la Ford.

(For bottling.)

(A recipe from Benson E. Hill, Esq., author of "The Epicure's Almanac.")

Take 3 dozen lemons.
2 pounds of loaf-sugar.
1 pint of Cognac.
1 pint of old Jamaica rum.

The lemons should have smooth rinds. Peel the yellow rinds off quite thin with a sharp knife, place them in an earthen vessel; add the sugar, and stir thoroughly for nearly half an hour with a flat piece of wood, to extract the essential oil. Pour boiling water on, and stir until the sugar is completely dissolved.

Havelock Tobaccos. Retail Price, 6d., 1/- & 1/6 per plug.

Cut and squeeze the lemons, straining the juice from the pips. Place the pips in a jug and pour boiling water upon them to obtain the mucilage in which they are enveloped.

Pour one-half of the lemon juice into the syrup, strain the water from the pips, and add it also to the syrup, taking care also that the syrup is not too watery. Next, add more sugar or more lemon juice, to make the mixture according to the taste. Lastly add and stir in the above amount of spirits to every three quarts of the lemonade, and bottle.

This punch improves by age if kept in a cool cellar.

Punch Jelly.

Take 1 quart of Punch à la Ford.
3 ounces of isinglass.
½ pint of water.

Dissolve the isinglass in the water, boiling ; add it while hot to the punch, and then pour into jelly-moulds, taking care they are not disturbed until the jelly is completely set.

In a similar manner, orange, lemon, or calf's-foot jelly can be converted into punch jelly, by using Punch à la Ford, prepared with less lemon juice.

Punch Jelly is a very insinuating and deceptive refreshment, because its strength is not appreciated when partaking of it, and it must therefore be indulged in with becoming moderation.

Havelock Tobaccos. Dark and Aromatic.

Dry Punch.

(For bottling.)

(From a recipe by Santina, the celebrated Spanish caterer.)

Take 1½ pound of loaf-sugar, dissolved in sufficient water.

2 gallons of brandy.
1 gallon of water.
½ gallon of strong green tea.
1 pint of Jamaica rum.
½ pint of Curaçoa.
Juice of six lemons.

Mix thoroughly and strain, as described in the recipe for "Punch à la Ford," adding more sugar and lemon juice, if to taste. Bottle, and keep on ice for three or four days, and the punch will be ready for use, but the longer it stands, the better it gets.

Regent's Punch.

(Use punch bowl.)

Take 1½ pint of strong green tea (hot).
1½ pint of lemon juice.
1½ pint of Capillaire.
1 pint of Jamaica rum.
1 pint of brandy.
1 pint of Batavia arrack.

Havelock Tobaccos. Finest Quality.

Nectar Punch.

Take 4½ pints of rum.
2 quarts of milk, boiling hot.
2 quarts of cold water.
2½ pounds of loaf-sugar.
15 lemons.
1 nutmeg.

Cut off the peel of the lemons very thin and infuse them for forty-eight hours with a pint and a half of the rum. Add to the infusion the water, the juice of the lemons, the milk, and the nutmeg grated; let it all stand for twenty-four hours, covered close; then add the sugar, strain through flannel, and bottle for use. It is ready to use at any time.

Orange Punch.

Take ¾ pint of rum.
¾ pint of brandy.
½ pint of porter.
3½ pints of boiling water.
¾ pound of loaf-sugar.
4 oranges.

Infuse the peel of two and the juice of four oranges with the sugar, in the water for half an hour; strain, and add the porter, rum and brandy. Sugar may be added, if it be desired sweeter. A liqueur-glass of Curaçoa, Noyeau, or Maraschino is considered an improvement.

Instead of using both rum and brandy, one-and-a-half pints of either alone will answer.

This is also an excellent recipe for LEMON PUNCH by substituting lemons for oranges.

Havelock Tobaccos. Retail Price, 6d., 1/- & 1/6 per plug.

Wedding Punch.

Take ½ pint of pineapple juice.
1 pint of lemon juice.
1 bottle of claret or Port wine.

Rub the vanilla and ambergris with the sugar in the brandy thoroughly; let it stand in a corked bottle for a few hours, shaking occasionally. Then add the lemon juice, pineapple juice and wine; filter through flannel, and lastly, add the syrup.

West Indian Punch.

This is made in the same manner as Brandy Punch (see page 51) by adding to each glass a small piece of preserved ginger, and a little of the syrup.

Barbadoes Punch.

Barbadoes Punch is prepared by adding to each glass of Brandy Punch (see page 51) one tea-spoonful of guava jelly.

Apple Punch.

In a china bowl lay alternate layers of sliced apples and lemons, each layer being thickly strewed with powdered sugar, until the bowl is about half filled; then pour a bottle of claret over the fruit and let it stand six hours. Pour it through a muslin bag, and it is ready for use.

Havelock Tobaccos. Dark and Aromatic.

PREPARED PUNCH AND PUNCH ESSENCES.

A glass of punch, with all the et c teras, is an excellent thing; the main difficulty about it is that, outside of a well-appointed bar-room, the necessary ingredients are not usually found ready to hand at the moment when they are indispensable; and, even under the most favorable circumstances, it is not every one that knows the precise proportions and happy blending of flavors that constitute a perfect glass of punch.

The enlightenment of the present day is full of short-cuts to comfort, and all the impediments in the way of enjoying a social glass of punch, compounded according to the latest discoveries of the art, are obviated by having a bottle of the desired nectar in a concentrated essence form, ready brewed in exact proportions, and nothing needed but a moderate supply of hot or cold water,, or ice, to adjust it to the correct strength and temperature, and a glass to receive the welcome libation.

The following recipes for concocting the latest and most improved varieties of punch are intended for bottling for ready use.

Directions for preparing such ingredients as are of a compound nature will be found in the preceding pages.
